Receivables Recovery for Law Firms

Recovering unpaid fees from former clients — on pure contingency, worked with the discretion a family practice requires

Prepared for Scott M. Brown & Associates · August 2026

A recovery partner for the fees that never followed the final decree

To Briana and the team at Scott M. Brown & Associates — thank you for reaching out. Family law carries a collection problem almost no other practice area does: the client owes you for the hardest year of their life, the matter is over, and the one thing they want is never to think about it again.

You told us the firm is carrying $100,000 to $499,000 in outstanding receivables.

Across four offices and eight counties that is not a billing oversight — it is the accumulated residue of matters that closed faster than the fees were paid.

Southwest Recovery Services is an outsourced receivables recovery partner working these balances on pure contingency since 2004. You place through a secure portal and we work them. No recovery, no fee — so a book you have already written down costs nothing to test.

Two decades of recovery — nationwide

A documented, compliant process and the follow-up capacity a firm cannot staff internally without pulling people off billable work.

What a firm should ask before placing

Including the two answers most agencies avoid giving a law firm.

YOUR QUESTION	SOUTHWEST RECOVERY SERVICES
1. Fee structure	Pure contingency — $0 upfront, no retainer, no minimum. You pay a pre-agreed percentage only of what we recover. On a book this size that matters: the accounts you have already reserved against cost nothing to attempt.
2. What recovery on legal fees actually looks like	Straight answer, because you will check it. Family-law fees are among the hardest consumer balances there are — the client is often financially depleted by the matter itself. In our book firms land in the 8–20% range, not the 40% a general consumer portfolio returns. On a book your size that is still real money at zero cost, but we will not quote a number we cannot produce.
3. How your former clients are treated	Every contact is calm, compliant and documented — FDCPA and Reg F by design. Your firm's reputation in Brazoria County is an asset built over twenty-four years; a collector who bullies a former client in a small county puts that at risk, and puts a bar complaint in play. That is why the tone is not negotiable.
4. Disputed fees	A fee dispute pauses recovery. We validate against the engagement letter and itemized billing record, and where a client raises a genuine service objection we hand it back to you rather than argue quality of representation on your behalf.
Four offices, one process	Angleton, Pearland, League City and Sugar Land place through one portal with office-level reporting.

THE SWRS CLIENT PORTALSimple placement, full visibility

Every placement runs through our secure portal — place a batch in minutes and see status without chasing anyone.

BILLING-EXPORT PLACEMENT

Upload an aging or A/R export from your billing system — we map your columns, no re-keying.

REAL-TIME REPORTING

Run and export account and recovery reports on demand, by office or across the firm.

SECURE FILE EXCHANGE

Send engagement letters, itemized invoices and the billing record safely inside the portal — the documentation that carries a fee claim.

DIRECT-PAYMENT REPORTING

Log payments a former client sends the firm directly, so balances stay accurate and nobody is contacted after paying.

SWRS Legal-Sector Case Studies

Actual placed-versus-recovered results from Southwest Recovery's law-firm book, anonymized, including two family-law practices with books comparable to or larger than yours. We have deliberately not led with our best legal result — it is an outlier and you would be right to discount it. This is the range a family practice should plan around.

WHY THE PERCENTAGE IS THE WRONG NUMBER TO JUDGE THIS ON

Eleven percent of a book you have already written off is not eleven percent of nothing

The two family-law practices above recovered $121,000 and $40,000 on balances their own teams had stopped working. The percentage looks modest; the cash was not. On contingency the only question is whether the recovered figure beats zero — and zero is what an unplaced book returns.

WHERE THE YIELD COMES FROM

Volume and consistency, not pressure — hundreds of modest balances worked to a documented process over months, which is precisely what a firm cannot do in-house.

WHAT RAISES IT

Placing sooner after the matter closes, a complete engagement letter and itemized billing record, and current contact details captured at intake rather than reconstructed later.

Recovery figures vary by portfolio; SWRS gives an honest, age-based read on a representative sample before any accounts are worked.

We speak your ledger

A family practice's receivables behave unlike any other professional service. Our playbook is built for that.

Post-matter fee balances

Fees owed once representation has ended, pursued against the engagement letter and itemized billing record.

Former clients who have moved on

Skip tracing to re-establish contact after a divorce has changed address, phone, employer and often name.

Credit reporting

Reportable balances go to Equifax and Experian — leverage a firm has no practical way to apply itself.

Reputation-safe contact

Compliant, documented, unaggressive outreach in the counties where the firm's name carries weight.

Recovery run on an AI-driven platform — Aktos

Every account SWRS works runs on Aktos, a next-generation, AI-driven collections platform — with compliance built into the workflow, not bolted on afterward. It's how a boutique, people-first agency delivers enterprise-grade speed, consistency, and auditability.

AI workflow automation

Repetitive steps are automated and every account is scored and routed by predicted payment likelihood — so the right strategy reaches the right account first, without manual queue-picking.

Omnichannel outreach

Coordinated email, SMS, and voice, timed to when a debtor is most likely to engage — replacing high-friction call blasts with respectful, data-driven contact.

Compliance built in

FDCPA, Reg F, and TCPA guardrails are enforced inside the automation, with phone-number and consent checks before outreach — documented and defensible on every account.

Real-time dashboards

You see status, segmentation, and recovery performance on your portfolio in real time — full transparency, not a monthly PDF.

Data-driven scoring

Dynamic scoring and segmentation predict payment likelihood and concentrate effort where recovery is most achievable — earlier intervention that returns more of each aging balance and reduces disputes.

The result is the combination clients rarely get from a legacy agency: faster cash and cleaner compliance at once. Automation standardizes documentation while empathy-first contact protects your brand and keeps disputes low.

Built by a collector with 30 years on the phones — not a CEO with zero collection experience

Steven Dietz

Founder & Chief Executive Officer

Featured in USA Today, International Business Times & Financial Services Review — Top AR Management Service, 2025 · ACA International member.

Steven Dietz didn't come to collections from the corner office — he came from the phones. He started as a collector and credit analyst before he was 20, trained collectors across 100+ locations for Aaron's, and has spent nearly 30 years in receivables.

He founded Southwest Recovery Services in 2004 on one principle: the industry's bad reputation is a choice, not a requirement. Two decades on he still coaches the teams and works accounts personally.

Regardless of the means of recovery, our focus is always on preserving goodwill and representing the client professionally.

— Steven Dietz, Founder & Chief Executive Officer, Southwest Recovery Services

A former client of a family law firm has already been through the worst year of their life. Recovery stays firm, compliant and quiet — that protects the client, and it protects a reputation built in Brazoria County since 2002.
