Recovering unpaid staffing invoices from clients who've stopped paying — on pure contingency

Prepared for Pacer Staffing · September 2026

A recovery partner for the invoices your clients have stopped paying

To the Pacer Staffing team — the hardest dollars a staffing firm collects are the ones a client stops paying after the workers were already placed and the hours were already billed. When those accounts go quiet, the margin on the placement goes with them.

Unpaid staffing invoices aren't a billing problem — they're a cash-flow problem.

You've already paid the workers; the receivable is money you've fronted.

Southwest Recovery Services is an outsourced receivables recovery partner working commercial B2B balances on pure contingency since 2004, nationwide.

Place accounts through a secure portal that takes your billing export, and we work them. No recovery, no fee.

Your questions — answered directly

What happens to the invoices you place — and a straight read on an aged staffing book.

YOUR QUESTION	SOUTHWEST RECOVERY SERVICES
1. Fee structure	Pure contingency — $0 upfront, no retainer, no minimum. A pre-agreed percentage only of what we recover, quoted after a representative sample of your aging.
2. Your 90+ book	Straight answer: aged balances recover materially lower than fresh ones. We'll give you an honest, age-based read on a sample before working anything — and the biggest lift is a standing rule to place newer balances at 90 days.
3. Non-responsive clients	Skip tracing on the client business, its successors and principals, plus persistent compliant multi-channel demand.
4. Disputed invoices	A dispute pauses recovery, it doesn't end it. We validate against the staffing agreement, timesheets and the PO — usually decisive.
5. Onboarding	Bulk-upload an aging export — we map your columns. Outreach begins within 24–48 hours of a documented placement.

SWRS Staffing & Recruiting Case Studies

Actual placed-versus-recovered results from Southwest Recovery's staffing and recruiting book, anonymized by sector. The spread is honest: fresh placements recover well, aged books far less — which matters for a 90+ file.

THE AGE CURVE

Why placing sooner recovers more

A staffing balance is most collectible while it's fresh. You reported a book that's largely 90+ days — so we'll be straight with you: aged staffing balances recover at the lower end of the range below, and the honest lift comes from placing the next cohort sooner.

FRESH VS. AGED

Accounts under ~90 days past due often resolve in 30–60 days; balances left to sit a year collect a fraction of that.

A STANDING RULE

A fixed 'place at 90 days' policy recovers materially more than letting balances drift toward write-off — and on contingency there's no cost to placing.

Recovery figures vary by portfolio; SWRS gives an honest, age-based read on a representative sample before any accounts are worked.

Recovering the margin you've already fronted

In staffing, the receivable is cash you've already paid out in wages. Every month a client invoice ages, the odds of recovering that fronted margin fall.

Non-responsive clients

Skip tracing on the client and its principals, plus persistent compliant demand for accounts gone silent.

Disputed invoices

Documentation-driven validation — staffing agreement, timesheets, POs — separating a real dispute from a stall.

Aged-book realism

An honest, age-based read on a sample first — no inflated promises on 90+ balances.

Nationwide reach

Recovery across all 50 states from 12 offices in 7 states.

Recovery run on an AI-driven platform — Aktos

Every account SWRS works runs on Aktos, a next-generation, AI-driven collections platform — with compliance built into the workflow, not bolted on afterward. It's how a boutique, people-first agency delivers enterprise-grade speed, consistency, and auditability.

AI workflow automation

Repetitive steps are automated and every account is scored and routed by predicted payment likelihood — so the right strategy reaches the right account first, without manual queue-picking.

Omnichannel outreach

Coordinated email, SMS, and voice, timed to when a debtor is most likely to engage — replacing high-friction call blasts with respectful, data-driven contact.

Compliance built in

FDCPA, Reg F, and TCPA guardrails are enforced inside the automation, with phone-number and consent checks before outreach — documented and defensible on every account.

Real-time dashboards

You see status, segmentation, and recovery performance on your portfolio in real time — full transparency, not a monthly PDF.

API-first intake

Secure SFTP/API placement means accounts start working without data lag — roughly 50% faster acknowledgment and validation of new placements.

Data-driven scoring

Dynamic scoring and segmentation predict payment likelihood and concentrate effort where recovery is most achievable — earlier intervention that trims DSO and reduces disputes.

The result is the combination clients rarely get from a legacy agency: faster cash and cleaner compliance at the same time. Automation accelerates recovery and standardizes documentation, while empathy-first, data-driven contact protects your brand and keeps disputes and complaints low.

Built by a collector with 30 years on the phones — not a CEO with zero collection experience

Steven Dietz

Founder & Chief Executive Officer

Featured in USA Today, International Business Times & Financial Services Review — Top AR Management Service, 2025 · ACA International member.

Steven Dietz didn't come to collections from the corner office — he came from the phones. He started as a collector and credit analyst before he was 20, was tapped by Aaron's to train collectors across 100+ locations, and has spent nearly 30 years in receivables. Along the way he became convinced the industry's bad reputation was a choice, not a requirement: businesses get paid faster when recovery is built on listening and respect rather than aggressive calls and empty threats.

He founded Southwest Recovery Services in 2004 on that principle — a national, family-owned receivables partner that treats every debtor as a person and every client relationship as worth protecting. Two decades later he still coaches the teams and works accounts personally — an operator who has actually done the job, not a manager who has only overseen it.

Regardless of the means of recovery, our focus is always on preserving goodwill and representing the client professionally.
