Recovering past-due commercial & residential balances — on pure contingency

Prepared for County Electric · September 2026

01 — INTRODUCTION

A recovery partner for the accounts that get too far past due

Aimee — thank you for reaching out. Electrical work gets billed after it's done, and some of those balances drift: the commercial customer who disputes a change order, the builder who stops paying between draws, and the homeowner who goes quiet once the panel is energized and the lights are on.

Past-due receivables aren't a paperwork problem — they're a cash-flow problem. Every invoice that ages past terms ties up money you've already spent on labor, materials and permits, and the longer it sits the harder it is to recover.

Southwest Recovery Services works both commercial (business-to-business) and consumer (residential/individual) receivables on pure contingency since 2004, with recovery reach across all 50 states. You place accounts through a secure portal that takes your invoice / aging export, and we work them — compliantly on the consumer side, firmly on the commercial side. No recovery, no fee.

03 — YOUR QUESTIONS, ANSWERED

Your questions — answered directly

Exactly what you asked — our pricing structure and how sending us items to collect works — plus the details that matter when a book has both business and individual debtors.

YOUR QUESTION	SOUTHWEST RECOVERY SERVICES
1. Pricing structure	Pure contingency — $0 upfront, no retainer, no monthly minimum. You pay a pre-agreed percentage only of what we actually recover. The rate scales with the age, balance, volume and mix (commercial vs. consumer) of what you place; we quote your exact rate once we've seen a representative sample of your aging. No cost to place, and no cost if we collect nothing.
2. How placement works	Low-lift and fast. Upload an invoice or aging export from QuickBooks or your billing system through our secure portal — we map your columns, so there's no re-keying — and attach the supporting paper (invoices, work orders, signed agreements). Compliant outreach begins within 24–48 hours of a documented placement, and you track every account live in the portal.
3. Commercial vs. consumer	Both are core to what we do, worked on separate, appropriate tracks. Commercial (business) balances get firm, direct B2B recovery and commercial skip tracing. Consumer (individual/residential) balances are worked under full FDCPA and Reg F guardrails — professional, documented and respectful, because how a homeowner is treated reflects on your name in the community you serve.
4. Disputed invoices	A dispute pauses recovery — it doesn't end it. We validate against the paper — work orders, signed proposals, itemized invoices, the communication trail — and speak with both sides. For electrical work that documentation is usually decisive. Dispute investigation typically adds 30–60 days.
5. Non-responsive customers	The core of what we do: persistent, professional multi-channel outreach plus skip tracing to locate a business's operating entity and principals, or an individual who has moved. A third-party demand on agency letterhead alone resolves a meaningful share of accounts that have gone silent.

04 — CASE STUDIES

SWRS Recovery Case Studies — Electrical & Trades

Actual placed-versus-recovered results from Southwest Recovery's electrical-contractor book, anonymized and sized to a working contractor. The higher-volume accounts reflect residential/consumer balances; the larger single balances are commercial. An honest spread — including the low end — because results track account age, balance and documentation.

THE AGE ADVANTAGE

Why placing sooner recovers more

A balance is most collectible while it's fresh; every month it ages, contact data goes stale and leverage erodes. The single biggest lever on recovery isn't chasing harder — it's not letting accounts sit until they're "too far past due."

THE AGE CURVE

Fresh accounts (under ~90 days past due) often resolve in 30–60 days; balances that have sat many months collect a fraction of that — still worth pursuing, but with realistic expectations.

THE STANDING RULE

A fixed "place at 90 days" policy recovers materially more than letting balances drift toward write-off — and on contingency there is no cost to placing early.

Recovery figures vary by portfolio; SWRS gives an honest, age-based read on a representative sample before any accounts are worked. We do not publish blended portfolio averages.

05 — BUILT FOR COMMERCIAL & CONSUMER RECOVERY

Cutting the days between billed and banked

Days Sales Outstanding measures how long completed work sits as a receivable before it becomes cash. Every month past terms erodes both recoverable value and the working capital you need for payroll, materials and equipment — which is why the highest-leverage change isn't chasing harder, it's placing sooner.

Non-responsive commercial accounts

Commercial skip tracing on the business and its principals, plus persistent multi-channel demand for customers who have gone silent.

Consumer & residential balances

Individual accounts worked under full FDCPA and Reg F guardrails — professional and respectful, protecting your name in the community.

Disputed & contested invoices

Documentation-driven validation — work orders, signed proposals, itemized invoices — that separates a genuine dispute from a stall tactic.

Nationwide reach

Recovery across all 50 states from 12 offices in 7 states — built for customers wherever your accounts are.

06 — AI-POWERED COLLECTIONS

Recovery run on an AI-driven platform — Aktos

Every account SWRS works runs on Aktos, a next-generation, AI-driven collections platform — with compliance built into the workflow, not bolted on afterward. It's how a boutique, people-first agency delivers enterprise-grade speed, consistency, and auditability.

AI workflow automation

Repetitive steps are automated and every account is scored and routed by predicted payment likelihood — so the right strategy reaches the right account first, without manual queue-picking.

Omnichannel outreach

Coordinated email, SMS, and voice, timed to when a debtor is most likely to engage — replacing high-friction call blasts with respectful, data-driven contact.

Compliance built in

FDCPA, Reg F, and TCPA guardrails are enforced inside the automation, with phone-number and consent checks before outreach — documented and defensible on every account.

Real-time dashboards

You see status, segmentation, and recovery performance on your portfolio in real time — full transparency, not a monthly PDF.

API-first intake

Secure SFTP/API placement means accounts start working without data lag — roughly 50% faster acknowledgment and validation of new placements.

Data-driven scoring

Dynamic scoring and segmentation predict payment likelihood and concentrate effort where recovery is most achievable — earlier intervention that trims DSO and reduces disputes.

The result is the combination clients rarely get from a legacy agency: faster cash and cleaner compliance at the same time. Automation accelerates recovery and standardizes documentation, while empathy-first, data-driven contact protects your brand and keeps disputes and complaints low.

07 — MEET THE FOUNDER

Built by a collector with 30 years on the phones — not a CEO with zero collection experience

Steven Dietz

Founder & Chief Executive Officer

Featured in USA Today, International Business Times & Financial Services Review — Top AR Management Service, 2025 · ACA International member.

Steven Dietz didn't come to collections from the corner office — he came from the phones. He started as a collector and credit analyst before he was 20, was tapped by Aaron's to train collectors across 100+ locations, and has spent nearly 30 years in receivables. Along the way he became convinced the industry's bad reputation was a choice, not a requirement: businesses get paid faster when recovery is built on listening and respect rather than aggressive calls and empty threats.

He founded Southwest Recovery Services in 2004 on that principle — a national, family-owned receivables partner that treats every debtor as a person and every client relationship as worth protecting. Two decades later he still coaches the teams and works accounts personally — an operator who has actually done the job, not a manager who has only overseen it.

> "Regardless of the means of recovery, our focus is always on preserving goodwill and representing the client professionally.
