Receivables Recovery for Outpatient Therapy

Recovering aged patient balances — on pure contingency

Prepared for Total Rehab · August 2026

The balance that builds one visit at a time

To Taylor and the Total Rehab team — therapy is the one service line where a patient balance accrues visit by visit. A copay at every session, coinsurance on every unit, and a deductible that resets in January. Twenty visits into a course of care, a family that never saw a large bill is holding one.

You already do the hard part well. You verify benefits as a courtesy, bill the payer on the patient's behalf, and collect only what the plan deems the patient's responsibility. But as your own insurance page tells patients, a verification is not a guarantee of benefits — so the true patient balance often lands weeks after the visit, once the plan has adjudicated and the front desk has no more leverage.

Southwest Recovery Services is an outsourced receivables recovery partner working patient balances on pure contingency since 2004, with recovery reach across all 50 states. Aged patient accounts are placed through a secure portal that takes an export from your practice management system. No recovery, no fee.

Two decades of healthcare receivables recovery

The questions a therapy practice actually asks

How this works against a patient-responsibility book across eight locations, two service lines, and a payer mix that runs from Medicaid HMO to workers' comp to self-pay.

YOUR QUESTION	SOUTHWEST RECOVERY SERVICES
1. Fee structure	Pure contingency — $0 upfront, no retainer, no monthly minimum. You pay a pre-agreed percentage only of what we actually recover. Healthcare contingency scales with balance size, account age and volume; we quote your rate once we see a representative sample of your aged patient AR.
2. What we work, and what we don't	We work patient-responsibility balances — copays, coinsurance, deductibles and non-covered services after the plan has adjudicated, plus self-pay and direct-access accounts. We are not a billing company and we do not chase payer claims; that stays with your billing team. Send us what the patient owes once the payer is done.
3. Tone, and the patients who come back	This matters more in therapy than almost anywhere. A patient finishing a course of care may be back next year, and their referring physician is watching. Our collectors work patiently and professionally — no threats, no misrepresentation, no pressure on a family whose child is mid-treatment. Firm, respectful, and documented.
4. Compliance	FDCPA and Regulation F govern every contact: validation notices, contact-frequency limits, and honored cease and dispute requests. Patient information is handled under a business associate agreement, restricted to the minimum necessary to work the account. Medical balances are not furnished to consumer credit bureaus.
5. Onboarding & placement	Fast and low-lift. Export aged patient balances from your practice management system and bulk-upload through our portal; we map your columns, so nothing gets re-keyed and no one at the front desk re-types an account. Outreach begins within 24–48 hours of a documented placement.

Practice-management-export intake and full visibility, on demand

Every placement is managed through our secure portal — built to take your AR exports and give your billing office live, self-service access throughout recovery.

AGED-AR EXPORT PLACEMENT

Upload a patient-balance export straight from your practice management system — we map your columns, no re-keying.

SECURE DOCUMENT EXCHANGE

Send statements, EOB detail, signed financial-responsibility forms and itemized ledgers safely inside the portal — the documentation that resolves a disputed balance fast.

REAL-TIME REPORTING

Run and export account and recovery reports on demand, by location or service line — a live view of your placed book instead of a monthly PDF.

DIRECT-PAYMENT REPORTING

Log payments a patient makes at the front desk, so balances stay accurate and no one is contacted after they have already paid.

WHY AGE DECIDES THE OUTCOME

The same balance is worth several times more at 90 days than at 24 months

Look again at the range above. The strong results came from balances placed while the phone number still worked and the patient still connected the bill to the care. The weak ones came in after two years of statements. Nothing about the collector changed — only the calendar did.

THE AGE CURVE

Patient balances are highly collectable near the date of service and decay steadily from there — demographic data goes stale, families move, and the connection between the bill and the visit fades.

THE STANDING RULE

A fixed placement policy — after a set number of statement cycles, every month, without exception — recovers materially more than letting balances drift toward write-off. On contingency there is no cost to placing.

Recovery figures vary by portfolio; SWRS gives an honest, age-based read on a representative sample before any accounts are worked. We do not publish blended averages and we do not promise a recovery rate.

Small balances, high volume, and families you will see again

A therapy book has a recovery profile all its own: balances accrued across dozens of visits, a payer mix spanning Medicaid HMO to workers' comp to self-pay, and eight locations feeding one patient ledger.

High-volume, small-balance recovery

Hundreds of accounts under a few hundred dollars each is exactly the work an in-house biller cannot get to. It is the work our systems are built for.

Deductible-reset season

January resets turn covered visits into patient balances overnight. We work the wave that follows without your front desk absorbing it.

Self-pay and direct access

Texas direct access means patients start care without a referral — and sometimes without a plan for the balance. Self-pay accounts are worked with the same documentation discipline.

Eight locations, one view

Place and report by location or by service line — adult and pediatric tracked separately, so you can see which sites generate the recoverable balances.

Recovery run on an AI-driven platform — Aktos

Every account SWRS works runs on Aktos, a next-generation, AI-driven collections platform — with compliance built into the workflow, not bolted on afterward. It's how a boutique, people-first agency delivers enterprise-grade speed, consistency, and auditability.

AI workflow automation

Repetitive steps are automated and every account is scored and routed by predicted payment likelihood — so the right strategy reaches the right account first, without manual queue-picking.

Omnichannel outreach

Coordinated email, SMS, and voice, timed to when a debtor is most likely to engage — replacing high-friction call blasts with respectful, data-driven contact.

Compliance built in

FDCPA, Reg F, and TCPA guardrails are enforced inside the automation, with phone-number and consent checks before outreach — documented and defensible on every account.

Real-time dashboards

You see status, segmentation, and recovery performance on your portfolio in real time — full transparency, not a monthly PDF.

API-first intake

Secure SFTP/API placement means accounts start working without data lag — roughly 50% faster acknowledgment and validation of new placements.

Data-driven scoring

Dynamic scoring and segmentation predict payment likelihood and concentrate effort where recovery is most achievable — earlier intervention that shortens days in patient AR and reduces disputes.

The result is the combination clients rarely get from a legacy agency: faster cash and cleaner compliance at the same time. Automation accelerates recovery and standardizes documentation, while empathy-first, data-driven contact protects your brand and keeps disputes and complaints low.

Built by a collector with 30 years on the phones — not a CEO with zero collection experience

Steven Dietz

Founder & Chief Executive Officer

Featured in USA Today, International Business Times & Financial Services Review — Top AR Management Service, 2025 · ACA International member.

Steven Dietz didn't come to collections from the corner office — he came from the phones. He started as a collector and credit analyst before he was 20, was tapped by Aaron's to train collectors across 100+ locations, and has spent nearly 30 years in receivables. Along the way he became convinced the industry's bad reputation was a choice, not a requirement: businesses get paid faster when recovery is built on listening and respect rather than aggressive calls and empty threats.

He founded Southwest Recovery Services in 2004 on that principle — a national, family-owned receivables partner that treats every debtor as a person and every client relationship as worth protecting. Two decades later he still coaches the teams and works accounts personally — an operator who has actually done the job, not a manager who has only overseen it.

Regardless of the means of recovery, our focus is always on preserving goodwill and representing the client professionally.
